Customer Testimonial

“Although I seldom need to speak directly with customer service at ID Images, since the vast majority of my orders with them are for stock items, I truly appreciate that when I do call, I am immediately greeted by a person, and do not have to navigate multiple prompts to reach someone. And the person I do reach is knowledgeable regarding their product offerings, and when I wander into unfamiliar situations where I don't have expertise, I can get technical information so that I can go back to my customer with confidence in the solution I am offering. I think ID Images is advanced in the use of technology, but fortunately for an "old school" distributor like me, they offer the kind of personal customer service that is so often lacking in business today.”
